

MABEL HITE'S ASHES MISTAKEN FOR BOMB

and Excited Manager Calls for Police.

Manager Patrick Kyne of Murray's restaurant, No. 228 West Forty-second street, telephoned excitedly for the police last night that a man had placed a suspicious looking package in the restaurant. He said the package was which looked like a bomb. Inspector Egan arrived and found a man sitting nervously about. He had read a lot recently about bomb plots and also he had just discharged some foreign cooks. He told the inspector he had torn the outer covering of the checked package and found a copper wire which might be a fuse. Inspector Egan carried the tub and supposed bomb across the street, where there is an excavation for a building. He tore the wrapper off and found a bronze urn, bearing the inscription:

"Mabel Hite Donlin. Died Oct. 22, 1912." The urn proved to contain the ashes of Miss Hite, the late popular actress. A few minutes later the man who had checked the package, and who said he was Ray E. Fry, manager of an undertaking establishment, called for the urn. He said he was to take it to a new columbarium. He said Mike Donlin, husband of the late actress, had intrusted the urn to his care.

Mayor Takes an Auto Ride. Mayor Mitchell's condition had improved to such an extent that he was able to take a short automobile ride yesterday afternoon. The Mayor, accompanied by Mrs. Mitchell, left the Peter Stuyvesant Apartment in the late afternoon.

PROTEST AGAINST ESTABLISHMENT OF NEW BUS ROUTES

Residents of West End Avenue and Other Streets Object at Estimate Board Hearing.

Strong protests against the establishment of motor bus routes in West End Avenue, Convent Avenue and Sixty-fourth and Sixty-fifth Streets were heard by the Board of Estimate to-day during the continuation of the hearings on the application of the New York Motor Bus Company for a franchise in this city. John C. Coleman, representing the West End Association, which has several hundred members, said the motor busses would ruin that exclusive thoroughfare as a residential street and bring about a disastrous decrease in property valuations everywhere. The Convent Avenue and the Sixty-fourth and Sixty-fifth Street residents, also represented by counsel, pleaded with the Board to change the motor bus routes.

William H. Page, counsel for the Fifth Avenue Coach Company, which unsuccessfully bid against the New York Motor Bus Company recently, drew a parallel between what he says the new company offers the city and what the Fifth Avenue Coach Company offers. He declared that if the Fifth Avenue Coach Company is given the franchise over the newly laid out route it will guarantee the city as its share of profits not less than $75,000 a year. He said the new company offers $30,000 the first year and increases this amount gradually to but $60,000 for the last five years of the fifteen year franchise. Therefore, the aggregate of guarantees is, New York Motor Bus Company $75,000 and the Fifth Avenue Coach Company $1,125,000, argued Page.

In a final analysis Page claimed that the bidders' estimates of the amount the city would receive from the new lines are, Fifth Avenue Coach Company, about $3,000,000, and New York Motor Bus Company, $1,275,000. "The Fifth Avenue Coach Company is under no delusions as to the cost of carrying passengers in the City of New York by motorbus," continued Page. "Its experience covers eight years and 15,000,000 miles of motor bus travel has demonstrated that a uniform rate of ten cents is still necessary to make its business profitable even within the territory it now serves.

The report of the franchise committee of the Board of Estimate, which recommends that the New York Motor Bus Company be given the franchise for the newly laid out route, contains nothing to indicate that the subject of the ability of the bidder to perform the franchise contract has been considered as a factor of importance in the award of the franchise. The Fifth Avenue Coach Company is the only one in the United States that has survived the experimental period."

FIRE EMPTIES BIG SCHOOL.

Three Thousand Pupils Get Safely Out of No. 14 in Two Minutes.

It took a trifle more than two minutes to empty Public School No. 14 in East Twenty-eighth street of its teachers and pupils this morning. This, the most cosmopolitan school in New York, has 3,000 pupils, and the discovery of a fire in a fourth-floor classroom caused Principal Hente to sound the fire drill zone. Without panic, laughing and chattering, the youngsters of all nations marched to the yard and street.

A boy passing Grade 7A on the fourth floor saw flames in a basket and notified the principal. The pupils of that class were exercising in the yard at the time. A fire extinguisher ended the blaze.

FLAMES MENACE NOTED RESORT IN CALIFORNIA

Wireless Calls for Help Sent From Avalon on Catalina Island—Many Escape Flames.

AVAILON, Catalina Island, Cal., Nov. 29 (by wireless).—Many guests had narrow escapes to-day, in a fire which started in the Grand View Hotel at 4 A. M. and threatened to sweep this famous resort. Within an hour the flames had destroyed the hotel Metropole, one of the best known in Southern California.

The steamer Hermosa has responded to wireless calls for aid. So far as known there have been no casualties. Driven out in their nightclothes, men, women and children took refuge in buildings not threatened by the flames. The property loss will be upward of several hundred thousand dollars.

FELL TWELVE STORIES IN SHAFT AND WILL LIVE

Elevator Repairer Declares That He Felt Like a Windmill When Making Descent.

George Citsell, the stalwart engineer of the apartment house No. 28 West Fifty-ninth Street, was trying to loosen a stalled door of the elevator shaft on the twelfth floor to-day when it suddenly slipped. He fell into the shaft and dropped down twelve stories.

John Small heard a crash as Citsell's body hit on the woven wire roof of the elevator at the ground floor, then a yell from Citsell, "Get me out of here!" The engineer told him to run the car slowly to the next floor, where Dr. Levy helped take him out and over to Flower Hospital. They found he had a compound fracture of the left leg and many bruises, but think he will recover. "How did I feel?" said Citsell. "I felt like a windmill, spinning round and round, with nowhere to go."

Any Case of Tuberculosis

will be helped in some measure by prompt and proper attention to diet and hygienic living. Eat pure, well-cooked food and avoid excesses. Live in the open air as much as possible, and always sleep with windows wide open. If such measures do not arrest the progress of the disease, the wise course is to try effective medication. For while science has not yet proclaimed a specific for tuberculosis, it is agreed that the best chance for recovery rest in a strengthening of all normal body functions. In many cases Eickman's Alternative has helped in this needed upbuilding. In any case it may be tried without risk, since it contains no poisonous or habit-forming drugs. And when used as an adjunct to right living, it produces the best results. From Eickman-Hogeman Co., or your druggist or direct from Eickman Laboratory, Philadelphia—Adv.
